

Chinese capitalist

China once eliminated capitalists after the founding of New China.

Later planned economy can not continue, quietly allowed the private economy.

At that time people work hard, because hard work is for yourself for the country.

Then the capitalists reappeared, they were the bosses, and they sought wealth.

However, Chinese workers do not know that they are squeezed by the bosses, who still say they should work hard.

From the current situation, the capitalists have not yet controlled the country, but they have taken control of the economy and are slowly watching the news media.

I am worried about the fear that after decades of peace, Chinese people have forgotten how terrible they were.
