

How to distinguish Chinese, Korean, Japanese?

Chinese is mostly squares and corners.

Most of the time there is a small circle in Korean.

There are twists and turns in Japanese, there are not many squares, and there are not many circles. Some of them are Chinese.

English: Make the world a better place.

Chinese:

Korean: .

Japanese:

Revision #1

Created 5 November 2018 13:16:08 by yes

Updated 5 November 2018 13:18:51 by yes