啊这？里面那么多遇难者的尸首还没挖出来，直接又埋起来？

- - - - -

what? The corpses of so many victims in it have not been dug up, so they are buried again?

上次我看到房子倒了不挖尸体的，还是尼泊尔地震的时候，毕竟尼泊尔是个贫穷落后的国家，美国不是啥啥都第一吗？

The last time I saw a house collapsed and didn't dig a corpse, it was the earthquake in Nepal. After all, Nepal is a poor and backward country. Isn't the United States the No.1 in everything?

没找到尸体就是0死亡！美国的做法棒棒的。

No body found, it's 0 dead! The American approach is great.

据说废墟下有一个幸存者呼救了11个小时，然而救援队除了隔着废墟和幸存者陪聊11个小时之外，其余啥都没干，直到幸存者再也没有任何声音.....

People under the ruins: "in fact, I can still rescue..."

It is said that a survivor under the ruins called for help for 11 hours, but the rescue team did nothing except chatting with the survivors for 11 hours across the ruins until the survivors were silent

找出幸存者几率为零，也就不怪别人阴谋论了，一点都不上心救人

If the chance of finding out the survivors is zero, it's no blame for other people's conspiracy theory. They don't care to save people at all

充分给大家展示了什么才叫真正的美式救援

It fully shows us what is the real American rescue

只要我不救出来就没人死亡 🙄

As long as I don't get it out, no one will die

由此可见美国的基础设施，和公共住建设施的功能已经相当脆弱了！

但以米国的疫情来看，确实

It can be seen that the functions of infrastructure and public housing facilities in the United States are already quite fragile!

But judging from the epidemic situation in the United States, it is true
